BERT L. PEARCE

Former Well Known Maysvillian Died At His Home In Covington Early Yesterday Morning.

Mayor J. Wesley Lee yesterday received a letter from Cincinnati announcing the death of Mr. Bert L. Pearce, who for a number of years was one of Maysville's prominent business men, having been engaged in the milling and coal business here. Some 15 or 20 years ago he moved with his family from this city to Covington, where he has resided ever since. He was about 70 years of age and has been an invalid for a number of years.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Dixie Nelson and Miss Mary Pearce, both of Covington, and two sons, Dr. Bert Pearce of Covington and Dr. Matt Pearce of Colorado. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Elias Pearce of Poplar Plains, and was a brother of the late Charles Burgess Pearce of this city. He is also a cousin of Mr. Charles D. Pearce of Louisville, president of the State National Bank of this city.

The remains will arrive here Thursday morning on the 9:26 train and will be taken direct to the Maysville cemetery where a short service will be held under the auspices of Limestone Lodge No. 36, K. of P., of which he was a member.

MISS MARIAN POWER ENTERTAINS WITH BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Marian Power, the young and attractive daughter of Mrs. W. P. Power of West Second street, last night entertained over a score of her young friends, both male and female, with a delightful theater party at the Gem theater in celebration of her own birthday anniversary. About 20 composed the gathering, and after enjoying a fine program of music and movies at the Gem, the merry young people, chaperoned by Miss Power's mother and Mrs. W. D. Frazier, crossed over to Traveler's, where a delicious luncheon was served in the most attractive style, the color scheme being green, in honor of the memory of old Ireland's patron saint, St. Patrick.

The affair was one of the prettiest and most enjoyable of the season.

City Engineer Glazier and assistants yesterday began the work of surveying for Maysville's proposed new brick streets.

FORTUNE FOUND

On Body of A. B. Denman, Who Suicided On C. & O. Train.

Greenup, Ky., March 16.—Arthur B. Denman, about 65 years of age, a resident of Ashland, Va., was found dead in a car of C. & O. train No. 5 Tuesday morning. His throat was cut. Mr. Denman had boarded the train at Ashland, Va., with a ticket to Dayton, O., Monday night. The discovery of the man's body was made when the train was just east of Greenup, Ky. Conductor Mead was unable to find the weapon which caused Denman's death. The body was removed from the train at Greenup. In a small salt bag sewed to the man's undershirt were certificates of deposit on Medina (O.), Ashland (Va.), and Pittsford (Mich.), banks, and cash amounting to $2,206.33. There was found also a deed and mortgage from his brother, George H. Denman, a guardian of A. B. Denman, showing that Arthur B. Denman was once declared by a court to be of unsound mind and George H. Denman appointed his guardian; that in September, 1914, he was adjudged by another court to be of sound mind, and that his guardian transferred his property back to him. Other papers indicate that he was a preacher.

Silk Blouses at $2½. Separate Skirts at $6½. Of course we have garments both cheaper and more expensive than these, but our line is particularly strong at the prices mentioned. IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

Here's a loud tribute to the selling power of an advertisement. One of America's greatest soap-makers is located in Philadelphia.

The firm has recently produced a new brand which must be wrapped in a special way. Four machines have been ordered to do the wrapping—some 20,000 packages of soap a day for each.

"We are afraid to advertise this soap in more than three cities," said the manager, "because we can not yet produce the stuff as fast as general advertising would sell it."

A concern which does business in a strictly confidential way—not letting anybody know what it has got to sell—is never troubled as is this enterprising soapmaker of having a bigger harvest to gather than reapers to cut it.—Philadelphia Ledger.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM CONVENTION FIRST.

The decision of the Republicans to hold a platform convention before the August primary is the proper thing. A party should always record its doctrines and then seek its candidate. No man is greater than party principles and politically history records few instances where candidates have ignored platforms and succeeded. The people nowadays want to know what a party stands for that seeks honors, and the Republicans must make a square, clean-cut declaration in order to gain the confidence of the voters this fall.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

FINDS REAL ARTICLE.

Don't tell us there are no Simon-pure, 18-k gentlemen in this neck o' the woods, for we know better. Several of them walked into our office and forked over the silver plunks this week. There ought to be a million of 'em.—Albany New Era.

THE WAR ON IGNORANCE.

Illiteracy is vanishing from Kentucky, and the battle of 1915, for which we are now making preparation, will be such as the world has never seen.—Cora Wilson Stewart, President Kentucky Illiteracy Commission.

COLDLY RECEIVED.

SPRING HERE AND ABROAD.

Spring will mean something over here—the old inspiring beauty and the old eternal hope. In Europe every spring flower will be a mockery and every bird song a lamentation.—Baltimore Sun.

FOOLISH PHILOSOPHY.

The rule is that if she wears too much paint she doesn't wear enough of other things. After a man gets property he is afraid the people are not as honest as they were when he didn't have anything to lose.

As a general thing, the louder a man talks, the less sense there is in what he is saying.

The world owes you a living. Also it owes the lark a living. But if the bird lay abed as long as you do it would never get the early worm.

The large folding bed transforms into a dining table. But with bread going up like an express elevator, please go 'way and let me sleep.

No efficient army would ever try to capture Russia, because so many unnecessary steppes would have to be taken.

When the champion jockey grew too fat to ride his worshippers gave him a diamond horseshoe with these apt words: "Your gain is our eternal loss."

PARAGRAPHORISMS.

(George M. Bailey in Houston Post.)

Frank P. Walsh advocated a minimum wage of $2.50 a day for unskilled labor in an address at Chicago. Why put it at that figure when $10 a day would be more satisfactory? When a man starts out to make a fool of himself in economics, why does he want to operate on minimum lines at all?

Death seems to be the only thing that can knock the spokes out of the cerebral wheels.

Hobson is certain to break out in Texas very soon, but Texas has been over-run with peripatetic reformers so long that a little more outside braying is not going to hurt if the collection be taken up exclusively among the people who delight in being humbugged.

Waco reports that a rascal entered a church, drank all the sacramental wine and then left a bogus check in payment. This is one of the most original as well as most despicable stunts in rascality that a Republican has put over in Texas for some time.

Memphis is going to stage a "paint week." Oh, the carmine tints that old town will show when Saturday night comes.

Billy Sunday tells the New York ministers he will strike the town in 1917. We suppose he wants to put it off until after the election, so that if the city gives a Democratic majority of a couple hundred thousand he will not have to go there at all.

The local ministers have learned definitely that Billy Sunday will not come, which we knew all the time. Billy is not concerned with saintly towns like Houston, but with the bad ones where there is a devil to fight and a hell to pay.

Now Spain is to buy war supplies in the United States. We are bound to maintain peace so long as we sell all of our fighting material to other countries.

B. SUNDAY'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY.

Please pardon a personal reference. I was born and bred, not in old Kentucky, although my great-grandmother was born in Lexington, but in old Iowa. I was a rub of the rubes, a hayseed of the hayseeds. I have greased my hair with goosegrease. I have blacked my shoes with stove blacking. I have wiped my face on a gunnysack towel. I have eaten with my knife. I have drank coffee out of my saucer. I have said "done it," when I should have said "did it," "come," when I should have said "come!" "seen," when I should have said "saw." I am a graduate from the university of poverty and hard knocks, and I have taken post graduate courses. My autobiography could be summed up in one line from Gray's Elegy: "The short and simple annals of the poor."

PASS TRADING STAMP BILL IN INDIANA.

A trading stamp bill was passed by the Indiana State Senate which establishes a license fee of $1,000 on every person, firm or corporation which handles trading stamps, its real object being to abolish trading stamp business in that state. The opposition contended that the fee of $1,000 would open the way for the monopoly of the business by the big merchant, who could afford to pay the fee, while his smaller competitors could not.

S. DERIDDER HEIR TO GREAT FORTUNE.

That Stanislaus DeRidder, of DeRidder & Griffith, leaf tobacco brokers of Louisville, Ky., is one of the only two heirs to the millions of the late G. He will share equally in the Reusens estate with a brother, whose home has been in Belgium, but who came to New York following the death of his uncle.

SOME LIKE BOTH.

Some men like blondes and some brunettes, and others are so good natured they are fond of both.

A woman will stand for almost anything from the man she loves. About the only exception is that she will not permit him to fool around in her kitchen.

INHERIT ONLY OUR FACES.

There are few subjects on which so much "scientific" nonsense is talked and written as on heredity. Not very much is known of it as regards plants, less of animals and almost nothing as regards humanity.

To read books on heredity, especially those of the Eugenic Society, is to read a mass of suppositions and hazardous inductions where most of the facts are negative, and only the exceptions are positive. The very meaning of "heredity" is not understood.

If any quality is truly hereditary, then it is always hereditary. It never occurs except as the results of heredity and it is constant, that is to say, it invariably follows. But there is no quality of which this can be said.

That genius is not hereditary is known. Even talent is not. Nor is any aptitude. A lawyer's son more often wants to be a soldier or an artist than a lawyer, notwithstanding the environments, and it is so with most professions. This exception seems to be due to training and influence, not to any hereditary transmission.

A superficial likeness to parents seems hereditary, but that is all that we can assert, and that outward likeness by no means infers an inward likeness. There is nothing so easy and nothing so fatal as this tendency to attribute to heredity what is due to training or want of training. It excuses supineness in governments and professions.—H. Fielding-Hall in the Atlantic Monthly.

HOW MANY APPLES DID ADAM AND EVE EAT?

Some say Eve 8 and Adam 2, a total of 10, others say Eve 8 and Adam 8 also, total 16, but if Eve 8 and Adam 82, the total would be 90. Others reason this way, that if Eve 81 and Adam 82, total 163. If Eve 81 and Adam 812 the total was 893. Then, if Eve 81 1st, and Adam 812 the total would have been 1,623; or again, Eve 814 Adam, Adam 81242 oblige Eve; total 80,255. Though we must admit Eve 814 Adam, Adam if he 8181242 keep Eve company, total in this case was 8,185,057. But then this is all wrong. Eve, when she 81812 many and probably felt sorry for it and Adam, in order to relieve her grief 812, therefore Adam, if he 81812407y Eve's depressed spirit, therefore, they both ate 81,896,864 apples.

HE'S A JOLLY GOOD FELLOW.

The most agreeable of all companions is a simple, frank man, without any high pretensions to an oppressive greatness—one who loves life and understands the use of it; obliging alike at all hours; above all, of golden temper, and steadfast as an anchor. THOUGHT SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Unionville, Mo.—"I suffered from a female trouble and I got so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without holding on to something. I had nervous spells and my fingers would cramp and my face would draw, and I could not speak, nor sleep to do any good, had no appetite, and everyone thought I would not live. Some one advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had taken so much medicine and my doctor said he could do me no good so I told my husband he might get me a bottle and I would try it. By the time I had taken it I felt better. I continued its use, and now I am well and strong."

"I have always recommended your medicine ever since I was so wonderfully benefited by it and I hope this letter will be the means of saving some other poor woman from suffering."—Mrs. MARTHA SEAVEY, Box 1144, Unionville, Missouri.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

The General Association of Baptists in Kentucky has purchased the Lyndon College property at Glendale, in Hardin county for use as the Kentucky Baptist Children's Home. The establishment of this home was authorized at the meeting of the Kentucky Baptists in Somerset last fall.

The consideration paid was $12,000. The buildings are large enough to accommodate from 75 to 100 children. There are 17 acres around them, and there is a farm of 120 acres, which will be used for industrial purposes.

The home will be ready for occupation June 30. The Rev. A. B. Gardner of Beaver Dam, superintendent of the home, will be located at the property after April 1. W. M. Stallings of Smith's Grove, is treasurer.

HEAVY SNOWFALL IS REPORTED IN MOUNTAINS.

Whitesburg, Ky., March 16.—A heavy snow has been falling in eastern Kentucky since early morning. Indications point to the biggest fall of the year. Development work is considerably hampered and wire service demoralized.

LATEST WAR BULLETINS

Preparing For Spring Campaign.
Paris, March 16.—General Joffre is said to have asked that the number of beds in the hospitals of Paris be doubled in anticipation of a great forward movement by the allies that is expected to result in many being injured. All the boys' schools in the city are to be taken immediately for hospitals. The French sanitary corps now has 100 hospital trains fully equipped. Each train can transport 500 seriously wounded so that the hospital capacity is now 50,000. The exact number of automobile ambulances at the front is unknown, but there are several thousands.

The advance of the British at Neuve Chapelle was but an initial feature of a great forward movement timed to start as soon as the fields are dry enough to permit the rapid movement of heavy artillery.

The German cruiser Goeben, with the Breslau expected to be the mainstay of the Turkish fleet defending Constantinople has been wrecked by striking a Turkish mine in the Sea of Marmora and has been beached in Stenya bay.

AID FOR KENTUCKY ROADS

Government Engineers and Bridge Builders' Assistance Is Promised McCreary and Terrell.

Washington, March 16.—Following a conference yesterday with Secretary of Agriculture Houston and Dr. Logan Waller Page, director of the office of public roads, Governor James B. McCreary and R. C. Terrell, Kentucky State Highway Commissioner, received the assurance that the Department of Agriculture will assign four civil engineers and a corps of bridge builders to assist the state authorities in improving the highways of Kentucky.

Governor McCreary and Mr. Terrell spent a full two hours in discussing the need of proper highway construction in Kentucky with Secretary Houston and Dr. Page and they left the Department of Agriculture elated over the generous offer of the Federal authorities to assist the state in improving its roads.

Governor McCreary called at the White House yesterday morning. He was introduced to the President by Senator James. The President let it be known the other day that he would not receive visitors for three weeks in order that he could devote all his time to studying the troublesome international problems but he made an exception to his rule when he learned that Kentucky's chief executive was in town and desired to call at the White House. Governor McCreary and Mr. Terrell left Tuesday evening for Frankfort.

JUDGE ORDERS THAW RETURNED TO ASYLUM.

New York, March 16.—Harry K. Thaw was this morning ordered back to the Matteawan Hospital for the Criminal Insane by Supreme Court Justice Page, who denied the motion of the defense that Thaw be allowed to return to New Hampshire.

In anticipation of an adverse decision by Justice Page, and before the court convened, counsel for Thaw laid the groundwork for a prolonged fight. A writ of habeas corpus was sworn out before Supreme Court Justice Bijur, which requires Warden Hanley of the Toms prison, to produce Thaw in court Friday morning, when an effort will be made to have the sanity of the prisoner determined by a jury.

NOT BY CHOICE.

"Johnny McGuirk," said the teacher, "why are you wearing that bright green tie today?"

"Because today is the feast of St. Patrick."

"Michael O'Reilly, why are you wearing that pretty shamrock?"

"Because it is St. Patrick's day, the patron saint of Ireland."

"Key Zinkenschlitz, why are you wearing that green ribbon?"

"Because McGuirk and O'Reilly vowed they'd beat me up if I didn't."

EXPRESS COMPANIES

Washington, March 16.—Representatives of the American, Adams, Southern and Wells-Fargo Express Companies asked leave of the Interstate Commerce Commission today to file a petition for rehearing of the express rate case. It declared that the low rates in force, prescribed by the Commission, have been "disastrous."

STILL KICKING "KY. TRUST LAW" AROUND.

Washington, March 16.—The conviction of the American Seeding Machine Company for violation of the Kentucky anti-trust laws, was reversed today by the Supreme Court on the Harvester "trust" decisions of last year when the Kentucky anti-trust laws were held unconstitutional.
